Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives

- 1. Identify significant historical events in American History from the establishment of the first English colonies through the Reconstruction period.
- 2. Provide examples of the role of politics, the economy, and diplomacy in the formation of the American government.
- 3. Assess the major social, political, and cultural issues that arose within the United States from 1789 through 1877.
- 4. Differentiate between primary and secondary sources and integrate these sources into the study of history.

Instructional Approach and Methods

This course is primarily lecture-based with relevant discussion boards as well as occasional short documentaries and other web-based content.

My approach to learning is to be open, honest, and respectful and to expect the same of others. As a storyteller who writes and publishes books and who has at times dabbled in film-making, I also love to tell a good story which means that while I will have PowerPoints available, my goal is to provide additional commentary that will "humanize" the vast array of historical characters and explore connections to the major--and a few not-so-major--events we will be discussing this semester.

Assessment, Evaluation and Testing Procedures

1. Exams

There are three non-cumulative exams for this course (including the final). Exams will be taken online via eLearn. Format will be Multiple Choice and Short Answer. Content may be drawn from Powerpoints on eLearn, lecture notes, selected portions of the text, and instructor handouts provided on eLearn. Study guides will be provided for each exam.

If you miss an exam due to serious illness or an emergency situation, you must notify the instructor immediately. Makeup exams must be taken within one week of the original exam date.

2. Assignments

Students must complete 5 online assignments throughout the semester. Assignments will be made available on eLearn at least one week before they are due. Deadlines will be strictly enforced. Assignments should be uploaded to eLearn with your last name and the assignment number as the file name. (ex: Smith-1, or Smith_Assign1, etc.) Assignments usually consist of a 2-3 paragraph response to a reading/viewing assignment or lecture notes.

3. Chapter, Lecture Notes, and Other Reading Assignments

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the text and with all course related materials such as lectures, course notes, and reading/video assignments. All materials except the textbook will be available through eLearn.

4. Participation

Students are expected to attend class, complete assignments and exams by the specified deadlines, be kind and courteous in interactions with faculty, staff, and fellow students, and take responsibility for their academic achievements.

Grade Plan

Exams 1-3 100 points each

Assignments 1-5 20 points each

Total points: 400 (A = 360 points)

Grading Scale

A	90+
B	80-89
C	70-79
D	60-69
F	0-59

Assignments

Students must complete 5 online assignments throughout the semester. Assignments will be made available on eLearn at least one week before they are due. Deadlines will be strictly enforced. In addition to online assignments listed above, students are expected to take notes in class and be able to respond to discussion questions relevant to the material.

Class Participation

Class Participation will be assessed based on student engagement including responding to discussions posted on discussion boards as well as the timely completion of assignments and overall performance in the class. Keeping in regular contact with me especially in the event of absence from class or a missed assignment is also important for class participation.

Online/Web-Enhanced Course Supplementary Information

Content outside the textbook, such as videos and articles required for reading and/or viewing assignments will be provided free of charge and available on eLearn.

Additional Course Requirements/Details/Information

While not necessarily a requirement, history is much more fun if students approach it with a benevolent attitude, willingness to learn, and a good sense of humor.

PURPOSE, LIMITATIONS AND MODIFICATION OF SYLLABUS

This syllabus sets forth the expectations for the course content, work, and grading as well as expectations for student performance and conduct. The syllabus does not constitute a contract between the student and the instructor or the College. The information contained here is subject to change at any time. The instructor reserves the right to modify this syllabus at any time with written notification to the students. Though changes are possible, it is expected that the course will be conducted as described in this syllabus for the semester/year specified in the Course Information section of the syllabus. This syllabus is only valid for the semester/year specified and course requirements are not guaranteed for future semesters.

COURSE GROUND RULES

- Students must attend the first day of on-ground class or contact the instructor prior to the first class. Failure to do this may result in being dropped from the class. Excessive absences may substantially lower the course grade.

- Regular class attendance is a student's obligation for any course regardless of format. (See the Walters State Catalog/Student Handbook). If a student misses class, it is his or her responsibility to contact the instructor regarding missed assignments and/or activities and to be prepared for the next class assignment.
- Students enrolled in web courses must follow the course attendance policy defined for online attendance during the first week of class and throughout the term. Failure to do this may result in being dropped from the class during week one OR may result in the accrual of absences which may negatively impact the student's grade in the course.
- Students who have not paid fees on time and/or are not correctly registered for this class and whose names do not appear on official class rolls generated by the Walters State student information system (MyWS) will not be allowed to remain in class or receive credit for this course.
- Electronic devices must not disrupt the instructional process or college-sponsored academic activity. Use of electronic devices is prohibited unless use of the device is relevant to the activity and use is sanctioned by the faculty member in charge. Electronic devices that are not relevant to the activity or sanctioned by the faculty member in charge should be set so that they will not produce an audible sound during classroom instruction or other college-sponsored academic activity.

FINANCIAL AID

Students receiving any type of financial aid or scholarship should contact the Financial Aid Office before making any changes to their schedule. Schedule changes without prior approval may result in loss of award for the current term and future terms.

All forms of student Financial Aid may be jeopardized or lost due to the lack of Satisfactory Academic Progress in one or multiple courses. Lack of Satisfactory Academic Progress may negatively impact a student's degree/certificate completion pace and further jeopardize Financial Aid eligibility.
