Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives

- Course Outcomes

As a result of class instruction the student will be able to:

1. demonstrate knowledge of the masterpieces of British literature from the Middle Ages through the Restoration.
2. sharpen his or her critical reading and writing skills by analyzing and interpreting specific literary works from these periods and by using primary and secondary sources.
3. demonstrate knowledge of the diverse social, philosophical, historical, cultural and political contexts of these literary works.
4. demonstrate a basic understanding of how early British traditions and thought—as reflected in the course readings—continue to influence contemporary thought.
5. demonstrate knowledge of the writing and documentation skills taught in English 1010 and 1020.

Instructional Approach and Methods

Procedure for Submission of work: All work for this class should be submitted to the appropriate drop box in eLearn. It is the student's responsibility to make sure that work is submitted properly. Work submitted to the wrong drop box will be recorded as non-submitted. Also, missing work due to a student inaccurately submitting work will be recorded as non-submitted. Work will not be accepted in hard copy form or through email.

The eLearn platform does not accept all file formats. to make sure that you document is readable, the student must submit in the .doc or .docx format, which is the file extensions for Microsoft Word. Every computer in the Walters State computer labs is pre-loaded with Word; therefore, every Walters State student has access to Word. The other suggested format is .rtf, which stands for Rich Text Format and is available in many word processing programs.

Assessment, Evaluation and Testing Procedures

The student may be required to attend cultural events that are related to the course content, such as literary readings, plays, and concerts. The student may receive extra credit in quiz points for attendance. The student may submit cultural event reviews for extra credit.

The student must draft, revise, and submit a documented critical paper and take all scheduled exams before the final grade is recorded. The exams and the critical paper are kept on file for one semester and are not returned to the student. All students must complete the Multiple Sections Verification (MSV) Pretest and Posttest. The MSV Posttest will be given in conjunction with the final exam and count no more than 5% of the course grade.

The instructor may refuse to accept papers that are not written according to class requirements or those for which there is a question about authorship or revision.

Grading Scale

A	100%-90%
B	89%-80%
C	79%-70%
D	69%-60%
F	59% or below

Assignments

Instructional and Evaluation Methods:

- Essays will be assigned as the course progresses. On average, each student will produce 3 formal essays focused on Early British Literature topics.
- Critical paper(s) should be researched, documented, typed, and edited according to MLA standards.
- Quizzes should be taken in a timely fashion through the eLearn platform.

Testing Procedures:

The final grade will be derived from an evaluation of examinations, critical papers, oral reports (if any) and quizzes.

Quizzes will not count more than 20% of the course grade, and at least 60% of the course grade will derive from essay writing.
