- 1. Organize and summarize data using frequency distributions, histograms, and descriptions of central tendency and variation.
 2. Compute the population mean, variance, and standard deviation given a discrete probability distribution and compute probabilities for applied problems using the binomial distribution.
 3. Compute probabilities including the use of the addition rule, the multiplication rule, conditional probabilities, and counting techniques.
 4. For applied problems, compute probabilities using the normal distribution and the central limit theorem and find percentile scores using normal distributions.
 5. Make inferences about population means and proportions from sample data using confidence intervals. Determine sample sizes required to estimate means.
 6. Make scatterplots of paired data, analyze the data using linear regression and correlation, and make predictions.
 7. Test claims about population means using hypothesis testing.
 8. Use computer programs and/or a graphing calculator to perform statistical analysis.

Instructional Approach and Methods

Regular attendance is needed for your success in this course, whether in-person or virtual. It is the student's responsibility to contact the instructor BEFORE each planned or school-sponsored absence. Please contact financial aid before dropping this or any other course.

Assessment, Evaluation and Testing Procedures

Homework Average counts 10%

Quiz Average counts 20%

Test Average counts 50%

Final Exam counts 20%

Class Grade= $0.10(\text{Homework Avg.}) + 0.20(\text{Quiz Avg.}) + 0.50(\text{Test Avg.}) + 0.20(\text{Final Exam})$

HOMEWORK Homework will be administered through the software package Open Math. Homework assignments will have an unlimited number of attempts up to the deadline assigned. Extensions may be granted on a case-by-case basis if the student contacts the instructor prior to the due date. The lowest three homework assignment grades will be dropped at the end of the semester.

QUIZZES Quizzes will be administered through the software package Open Math. Students will have two attempts per quiz up to the deadline assigned. Extensions may be granted on a case-by-case basis if the student contacts the instructor prior to the due date. Otherwise, the quiz will receive a grade of zero. The lowest quiz grade will be dropped at the end of the semester.

Tests There will be 4 proctored tests. The tests will be administered in Open Math and must be proctored. You will not be allowed to use your notes or the internet. * If one test is missed for any reason that was not approved prior to the date of the test, the final exam score will replace the missed test score. If all four tests are taken and one score is lower than the final exam, the final exam score will replace the lowest test score. *If a student arrives late to take a test and other students have already completed the exam and left the room, the student arriving late will not be allowed to take the exam. It will be counted as a missed test.*If more than one test is missed without prior approval, the first missed test score will be replaced by the final exam score. Make-ups for additional missed tests will be at the discretion of the instructor.

FINAL EXAM There will be a proctored mandatory comprehensive final exam. The final exam will be administered in Open Math. The exam must be proctored. You will not be allowed to use your notes or the internet for your final exam. You will be allowed to bring both sides of one 8.5in-by-11in piece of paper with handwritten notes.

The Final Exam is now scheduled for Wednesday, December 6, 2023: 6:00 PM – 9:00 PM.

This syllabus is only valid for the semester/year specified and course requirements are not guaranteed for future semesters.

COURSE GROUND RULES

- Students must attend the first day of on-ground class or contact the instructor prior to the first class. Failure to do this may result in being dropped from the class. Excessive absences may substantially lower the course grade.
- Regular class attendance is a student's obligation for any course regardless of format. (See the Walters State Catalog/Student Handbook). If a student misses class, it is his or her responsibility to contact the instructor regarding missed assignments and/or activities and to be prepared for the next class assignment.

- Students enrolled in web courses must follow the course attendance policy defined for online attendance during the first week of class and throughout the term. Failure to do this may result in being dropped from the class during week one OR may result in the accrual of absences which may negatively impact the student's grade in the course.
- Students who have not paid fees on time and/or are not correctly registered for this class and whose names do not appear on official class rolls generated by the Walters State student information system (MyWS) will not be allowed to remain in class or receive credit for this course.
- Electronic devices must not disrupt the instructional process or college-sponsored academic activity. Use of electronic devices is prohibited unless use of the device is relevant to the activity and use is sanctioned by the faculty member in charge. Electronic devices that are not relevant to the activity or sanctioned by the faculty member in charge should be set so that they will not produce an audible sound during classroom instruction or other college-sponsored academic activity.

FINANCIAL AID

Students receiving any type of financial aid or scholarship should contact the Financial Aid Office before making any changes to their schedule. Schedule changes without prior approval may result in loss of award for the current term and future terms.

All forms of student Financial Aid may be jeopardized or lost due to the lack of Satisfactory Academic Progress in one or multiple courses. Lack of Satisfactory Academic Progress may negatively impact a student's degree/certificate completion pace and further jeopardize Financial Aid eligibility.
