Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives

- 1. demonstrate knowledge of the literary masterpieces of the ancient Near East, ancient Greece and Rome, the European Middle Ages, and the Renaissance.
- 2. sharpen critical reading and writing skills by analyzing and interpreting specific literary works from these periods and by using primary and secondary sources.
- 3. demonstrate knowledge of the diverse social, philosophical, historical, cultural and political contexts of these literary works
- 4. demonstrate a basic understanding of how Western traditions and thought—as reflected in the course readings—continue to influence contemporary thought
- 5. continue to demonstrate knowledge of the writing and documentation skills taught in English 1010 and 1020.

Instructional Approach and Methods

- Examinations: Essay and objective (2-3)
- Critical paper(s), 800 to 1000 words, documented, typed, corrected
- Quizzes

Assessment, Evaluation and Testing Procedures

Testing Procedures:

- The final grade will be derived from an evaluation of examinations, critical papers, oral reports (if any) and quizzes.
- The instructor may give daily quizzes. Students cannot make up missed unannounced quizzes. Quizzes will not count more than 20% of the course grade, and at least 60% of the course grade will derive from essay writing.

Grading Scale

The following scale will be used to determine the student's final grade in the course. Please also see additional course details for more information on grade breakdown.

A	90-100
B	80-89
C	70-79
D	60-69
F	59 and below

Assignments

Assignments/Projects:

- Oral reports possibly required on topics related to course material. (Quiz points given for the oral reports.)
- Attendance at cultural events
- Library reserve reading

Assignments and Grading

Throughout the course, quiz assignments will be given. These quizzes could relate to various course materials such as assigned readings, lecture materials, and writing assignments. If a quiz assignment is not submitted by the due date, the quiz will receive a grade of zero. However, because everyone has a bad day every now and then, each student's two lowest quiz grades will be dropped. Quizzes will be averaged together to determine 10% of your course grade. You will also complete three exams that will feature both essay and objective questions, and you will create one major critical paper. Finally, you will take an MSV objective pretest (which will not be graded) and an MSV objective posttest (which will receive a score). A list of these course assignments appears below:

Exam #1 is 20% of the total course score.

Exam #2 is 21% of the total course score.

Exam #3 is 21% of the total course score.

Critical Paper is 23% of the total course score.

Quizzes are 10% of the total course score.

MSV Posttest is 5% of the total course score.

Class Participation

Class Participation:

- Class responses to lectures by instructor
- Oral reports (Quizzes take place of oral reports.)
- Visual media

For every day—not just every class meeting—a paper is late, I will reduce the paper's final score by ten points. Please note that late submissions will be graded after all punctually submitted compositions, at my earliest convenience. Students are not under any circumstances to submit any of their original writing that has been submitted in another class (even if the paper was submitted in one of my classes previously), posted on the Internet, or published in any form. Such submissions will earn a grade of zero.

Course and Class Policies/Procedures

Other Requirements: Program Specific Policies

The student may be required to attend cultural events that are related to the course content, such as literary readings, plays, and concerts. The student may receive extra credit in quiz points for attendance. The student may submit cultural event reviews for extra credit.

The student must draft, revise, and submit a documented critical paper and take all scheduled exams before the final grade is recorded. The exams and the critical paper are kept on file for one semester and are not returned to the student. All students must complete the Multiple Sections Verification (MSV) Pretest and Posttest. The MSV Posttest will be given in conjunction with the final exam and count no more than 5% of the course grade.

The instructor may refuse to accept papers that are not written according to class requirements or those for which there is a question about authorship or revision.

Plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty are prohibited. Students may not submit work from other classes unless permitted by the instructor. According to Webster's Ninth New Collegiate Dictionary, plagiarism is to "steal and pass off as one's own (the ideas or words of another); to present as one's own an idea or product derived from an existing source." Also, see The Little, Brown Essentials Handbook pages 151-157. Any student who plagiarizes will receive a zero on the paper and may receive a grade of F in the course. (See the Walters State Catalog/Student Handbook.)

Excessive absences may substantially lower the course grade. A late paper receives a one-letter grade deduction for each day it is late unless the student has an excused absence and notifies the instructor in advance. This rate of deduction could result in a grade value of zero if a paper were to be several days late. The instructor can require written proof of a valid excuse. Even if the absence is justifiable or administratively approved, the student must complete the paper or make arrangements to do so within one week after returning to class. After one week, if the student has not made up the paper or made satisfactory arrangements to do so with the instructor, the student receives a 0 for that theme.

Students for whom English is a second language may contact Michelle Mitrik at 423-585-6930 for advising and/or tutoring referrals.

 - e. Consulting with a classmate or others when taking a computerized test.
 - f. Disregarding other specific policies and procedures outlined for a particular class.

- g. Utilizing unapproved technology/electronic equipment during testing (i.e.: mobile devices such as cell phones, smart devices, or tablets, etc.).
 - h. Using the same Internet Protocol network address (IP address) as another student for testing without approval from the course faculty.
3. The use of any generative artificial intelligence (AI) tool, such as OpenAI's ChatGPT, Google's Bard, or any other pre-trained language model (commonly referred to as "chatbot"), must be cited for any assignment where it has been used and may not be used unless specifically allowed by your instructor. If a student misses class, it is his or her responsibility to contact the instructor regarding missed assignments and/or activities and to be prepared for the next class assignment.
- Students enrolled in web courses must follow the course attendance policy defined for online attendance during the first week of class and throughout the term. Failure to do this may result in being dropped from the class during week one OR may result in the accrual of absences which may negatively impact the student's grade in the course.
