Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives

- As a result of successful completion of ENGL 0804, students will be able to
 1. Apply several techniques of prewriting to generate and organize ideas.
 2. Choose appropriate argumentative topics.
 3. Write thesis statements that establish the main claims for themes.
 4. Write paragraphs unified by clear topic sentences.
 5. Use relevant rhetorical patterns and supporting materials to develop themes.
 6. Identify logical organization and effective transitions in themes.
 7. Recognize unified, coherent, and audience-appropriate writings.

Edit themes to conform to conventions of grammar, mechanics, and usage by avoiding the following major errors: sentence fragments, comma splices, run-on sentences, subject-verb agreement errors, pronoun-antecedent agreement errors, inappropriate verb forms, and inappropriate tense shifts

Instructional Approach and Methods

Instruction will come from lecture, discussion, reading, exercises, and practice in writing (in class or in lab). Grades will be determined by evaluation of writing exercises and quizzes.

This is a pass/fail course. Students who receive 70% of the possible points for the course will pass and remove their LS Writing requirement. Passing the co-requisite Composition I course automatically awards students with 70% of the points.

Assessment, Evaluation and Testing Procedures

1. Students will produce an argumentative writing sample for the instructor to evaluate basic writing skills and to make referrals for further assessments.

2. In addition to the sample, students will complete a first-of-semester Multiple Sections Verification (MSV) objective exam (which does not receive a grade), an end-of-semester MSV objective exam (which counts 5% of the final grade), multiple quizzes, in-class writing and discussion board exercise(s), three major graded papers, and paper/course reflections. These writings represent a minimum for the course, and with drafts and informal writing assignments, students should write over 5000 words during the semester. The entire course will center around these four major writings:
1. Paper 1: Narrative Description (sample essay)
 2. Paper 2: Exemplification with Documentation
 3. Paper 3: Compare/ Contrast with Documentation
 4. Paper 4: Definition with Documentation
3. To successfully complete the course, students must not only earn a passing grade but also demonstrate mastery of the general education reading and writing competencies as reflected on the departmental rubrics. These competencies will be evaluated with each major paper.
4. Students will move through a process to complete major papers. The process will vary according to assignments, but it should include prewriting, outlining, drafting, and editing.
5. Students must write a minimum of four papers (including the writing sample). The instructor and peers will assess stages of the writing process for each paper, and the student will revise accordingly to arrive at a final draft. Revisions may receive daily points for addressing instructor and peer feedback, but once a student submits a major paper for a final grade, it cannot be resubmitted for a higher grade.
6. The student will keep all required paper drafts and make revisions according to instructions. The instructor may require that this process be completed electronically. Any major paper assignments evaluated outside of eLearn must be submitted to the instructor at the end of the semester.
7. The student will submit print or electronic notes, bibliographic information, rough drafts, and source material used in preparation of documented papers so that the instructor may verify paraphrased material and direct quotations. Additionally, students will submit all major papers to eLearn dropboxes for plagiarism detection.

If a student misses class, it is his or her responsibility to contact the instructor regarding missed assignments and/or activities and to be prepared for the next class assignment.
- Students enrolled in web courses must follow the course attendance policy defined for online attendance during the first week of class and throughout the term. Failure to do this may result in being dropped from the class during week one OR may result in the accrual of absences which may negatively impact the student's grade in the course.

All forms of student Financial Aid may be jeopardized or lost due to the lack of Satisfactory Academic Progress in one or multiple courses. Lack of Satisfactory Academic Progress may negatively impact a student's degree/certificate completion pace and further jeopardize Financial Aid eligibility.
